John Deere's Self-Dump Sulky Rake

The First Consideration Has Been Simplicity and Durability!

DURABLE

Axle studs are  $1\frac{1}{4}$  inches in diameter, and are reversible and interchangeable, which doubles their life.

Dump rods are of high carbon steel,  $\frac{3}{4}$  of an inch in diameter. They have four times the durability of the ordinary dump rod, as they are reversible, individually, interchangeable and again reversible.

SIMPLICITY

We can rightfully boast that our rake has fewer parts than any rake on the market. Simplicity of construction and proper material, systematically and symmetrically distributed, mean much to users.

$5,000,000 UNIVERSITY

Of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South to be Located at Atlanta.

(From Atlanta Journal)

Atlanta wins the great southeastern university of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, the companion of the institution which has been located already at Dallas, Texas.

Announcements of the victory was made at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning from the educational commission's meeting in the Piedmont Hotel.

Shortly after the announcement, Asa G. Candler gave out a typewritten statement verifying the report that he will give $1,000,000 outright to the new university.

Mr. Candler's statement was a carbon copy of a letter addressed Thursday by him to his brother, Bishop Candler, chairman of the commission.

"Impelled by a deep sense of duty to God and an earnest desire to do good to my fellow men, I make to you as chairman, the communication which follows," was the first paragraph.

"To this end, so far as education can accomplish it, I offer to the educational commission, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, charged by the general conference with the duty of establishing an institution of university grade east of the Mississippi River, the sum of one million ($1,000,000) dollars for the endowment of such an institution."

Mr. Candler's letter expressed fully the spirit which impelled him to make the generous gift.

It is planned as a $5,000,000 institution. Its work will start this fall, with equipment already available to the theological department.

This and the Dallas university will have the support of the whole southern Methodist Church. The church has relinquished any further claim upon Vanderbilt University, and will turn its attention entirely to these.

Ohio is now suffering from "legislative indigestion," the third session within eighteen months of the Cox regime will bring on "legislative appendicitis."—West Union (O.) Record.

It is reported from Chicago that the price of beef to the butcher soon will be 16 cents. When this comes true, as, doubtless, it will the Argentine stock raiser will think he has found the pot of gold at the end of President Wilson's rainbow.

ONLY 160,000 MAJORITY.

Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, on Tuesday "came back" triumphantly and the next one will be Uncle Joe Cannon. Senator Cummins voted against the low Tariff because he knew it would be a failure and would want to get from under the responsibility; but he was as much responsible for the Democratic Tariff as President Wilson was, and more. He started the outlandish fight on the Protective Tariff. Now the country is returning to Republican Tariff ideas. Who will contend that Senator Cummins is the sort of Tariff advocate to lead the Republican party?

Senator Penrose's majority is 160,000 over his Cummins type of statesman opponent. Is it significant of the trend away from humbug and fake "reform" that Pennsylvania in its first primary should be so decisive for Protection to American labor and industries?—Adair (Ia.) News.

LOUISIANA IS FIGHTING MAD.

The Bull Moose movement in Louisiana is Bull Moose only for want of a better name. The name Republican is still anathema in that part of the world, although Pharr in 1896 was elected Governor on a Republican-Independent ticket, despite the fact that he was counted out.

Louisiana is "soo clean through." Is it any wonder? The Democratic leaders imagined that they had some sort of guarantee from the Baltimore convention that the sugar interests would be taken care of. They knew that Mr. Underwood was against free sugar, and they were given to understand that Woodrow Wilson would be also. But this did them no good; and when they began to feel around in Washington recently, explaining that the Progressive movement would win the day unless the sugar schedules were revised, they met with a cold reception. The White House was against them. South Louisiana may love Democracy, but it loves its sugar cane better. The recently developed rice industry in western Louisiana has also been hard hit.

For years Louisiana voted Democratic and prayed for Republican success. This time it got what it voted for and the dose is nauseating.

There is no joy in the Choctaw Club these days. An independent Governor sits in Baton Rouge. The Bull Moose has been parading up and down with every sign of enthusiastic popular support. One Congressman anyway, and three others perhaps, is what the Progressives expect to get. It is really just an anti-Democratic fight, but there is enough venom in it to satisfy the most ferocious politicians. What Louisiana wants is a few Congressmen who will vote for the interests of the State, that is, for Protection; and it wants to get rid of the little fellows who jump whenever the Big Chief happens to crack his whip.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

RAKINGS

TOO FAST.

A very much mussed-up citizen of the Sixth City rushed into the Central Police Station Tuesday evening and shouted aloud for vengeance, justice, or mercy at the very least.

"The automobile that hit me five minutes ago was No. 41144, Ohio," he sputtered. "It knocked me unconscious, but I got the number before I went down for the count. Put it on a piece of paper—41144."

"All right. What do you want?"

"What do I want? Why, I can prove that he was exceeding the speed limit, and I want—I want—"

"Calm down, friend. You want a warrant for his arrest?"

"Warrant nothing! What good would a warrant do me? He was going so fast, I tell you, that a warrant wouldn't get him now. What I want is extradition papers!"—Cleveland Dealer.

Early returns from the wheat-threshing fields indicate that the Nebraska winter wheat yield is about three times the normal amount, the yield running from thirty-five to forty bushels an acre. Threshing is under way in the entire southern tier of the counties.

She was at the postoffice window before the hour of opening, seven o'clock, and fumed and fretted because she could not at once get her mail and "catch her train." She tapped on the window, wrung her hands a little, looked about as amiable as most women do on wash day, and when the window was opened fretted a little more because she had to sign a receipt for a registered letter. Then she ran for the railroad station as fast as her fashionable skirts would allow—and waited forty minutes for the train. ### HERE'S A GOOD FISH STORY.

(Carlisle Advocate.)

T. I. Hildreth and George Moran tell a big fish story on themselves, and they say it is so, too. One day last week they were on Licking River "feeling" for fish and in the hollow of a large log Moran ran across a large cat-fish. When he ran his hand in the log the fish closed down on it and came near pinching his fingers off. He called Hildreth, who ran a gig in the fish and after working for a few minutes a trot line stay was tied in the fish's gill. After much effort in getting the fish out of the hollow of the log it took three men to land it safely on the bank. When placed on the scales the fish weighed 43 pounds.

SCHOOL YARDS.

Are public school yards for the people who pass by them or for the children who go to school in the buildings? If they are for the people—for adults, often dyspeptic, sour and gloomy—they need only to be landscaped, sodded and preserved zealously, guarding against contamination from the feet of happy boys and girls. If they are so preserved, have you any proof that they will do the sour, the gloomy, the dyspeptic any good?

Is there proof that they will observe them even if the school yards are made bowers of flowers and clumps of shrubs instead of playgrounds for the kids?

There is in St. Paul, Minn., a director of school gardens who is employed by the School Board to supervise garden work, but who has turned his attention to beautifying and landscaping the school grounds. He says, "Look fifty years in the future in planning the landscape features of your school grounds."

It would be better to say, "Look ten years in the future in planning the use of the school grounds and then turn the yards over to the school children who will be grown up when those ten years have passed and will be able to appreciate the play they had when they went to school."

The only organized effort in planning the school grounds is to devote them to play, devote all of them to play and always devote them to play. Make the school yards the pupils' property; we can't plan nowadays without providing for play. The best way is to embellish the school grounds for recreation.—The Spectator (Municipal Journal of Pittsburgh, Pa.)

TWO DRINKS A DAY

WHISKY LIMIT

That Is All a Man Can Take Care of, Says Expert.

New York—Dr. Smith Ely Jelliffe, physician, testifying yesterday at New Brunswick, New Jersey, in the contest over the will of James W. Sterry, New York drug merchant, declared that the human body can burn two ounces of alcohol daily, with a fair amount of impunity. "More than that amount will injure a man physically and mentally," said the expert, "the worst blows being to his mind." By two ounces, I mean two drinks of whisky with the average of three fingers to the glass. Whisky is about 50 per cent. alcohol. The minute a man begins to drink more he is subjecting his faculties and body to a strain they can not stand.

GOOD ROADS IN DOLLARS AND CENTS

What It Costs the United States to Improve Its Highways and What It Gets in Return.

Washington, D. C., July 18.—Approximately $206,000,000 was spent last year on public roads in the United States, according to statistics prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In 1904 the total was only $79,000,000. In nine years, therefore, the increase has been over 250 per cent.

This awakening on the part of the country to the importance of good roads has, experts say, been due in great measure to the principle of state aid to counties and other local communities.

New Jersey began the movement in 1891 when it passed its State Highway Law.

Massachusetts and Vermont followed a year later, but for the most part the other States were slow to move. In 1904 only fifteen had state highway departments; today there are only six that have not. In 1913 the individual States appropriated a total of $38,755,082 to supplement local expenditures.

The value of this state aid is, however, not to be measured by the figures alone, for the bulk of the money comes, and always must come, from the counties and townships.

Thus, in 1912, the cash outlay by counties, districts and townships, was $137,493,985.

Complete figures for 1913 are not yet available but it is safe to estimate the sum at approximately $151,000,000. To this must be added some $15,000,000 to represent the value of the labor contributed instead of cash in districts where this practice prevails.

Last year, therefore, local communities contributed, in round numbers, one hundred and sixty-six millions of dollars, as against appropriations from state treasuries of $38,755,082.

The true importance of this thirty-eight millions lies in the fact that it means expert supervision of the expenditure of a considerable portion of the vast sum of two hundred millions.

When each county built as it chose and when it chose, the services of trained engineers were usually out of the question.

Starvation In The Midst Of Plenty

Many are actually starving, even though eating heartily three times a day. They are starving because the usual diet lacks certain essential elements.

In making white flour, the outer coat of the wheat, containing the phosphate of potash and other vital mineral salts, is discarded. These mineral salts are absolutely necessary to nerve health and therefore to body health.

Grape-Nuts

contains the whole nutriment of wheat and barley, including the mineral salts. The malting of the barley starts digestive processes and the 20-hour baking breaks down the starch cells. Grape-Nuts food digests in about one third of the time required by white bread.

AND THIS IS WHAT THEY WANTED.

An echo of the famous burley tobacco case was heard in the Kenton Circuit court in Covington Thursday morning when Attorneys Byrne, Read and Tomlin and West presented testimony intended to show that they should receive $15,000 for their services. The four attorneys represented the plaintiffs, Elmer Stansifer and others, at the time they sued the Burley Tobacco Company.

17,000 GALLONS OF BEER

Run Into Kanawha River—Brewery Destroys All Surplus Stock On Hand When State Goes Dry.

Parkersburg, W. Va.—To avoid paying the Federal tax a local brewery company had R. L. Hays, deputy internal revenue collector, supervise the destruction of 17,000 gallons of beer which had been left over when West Virginia went dry July 1.

The beer was run out of the vats into the Little Kanawha River. Under the prohibition law intoxicants can no longer be manufactured or sold in the State.

DYNAMITE FORTY-SIX YEARS AGED AT THE PRESENT TIME

Forty-six years ago today the first official test of dynamite in England was made. The hills around Mersham shook beneath the mighty vibrations of a new explosive born to civilization. It had been discovered by Alfred Nobel of Sweden and its experimental tests made in the preceding year. Nobel created it to take the place of the untamed nitroglycerine which had appealed the world for several years with its grim tragedies. The inventor had lost his father and brother when his nitroglycerine factory had blown up a few years before his discovery. Its death toll was such that England, Belgium and Sweden forbade its manufacture. The world was aroused when, as a climax to its record a ship loaded with nitro-glycerine, blew up in mid-ocean while on its way from Europe to Chili, and the governments were on the point of prohibiting its use.
